

CSKA WELCOMES NORMAN E. TAYLOR AS EDITOR-IN-CHIEF – *JOURNAL OF COMMUNITY SAFETY & WELL-BEING

The Community Safety Knowledge Alliance is pleased to announce the appointment of Norman E. Taylor as Editor-in-Chief for its flagship Journal of Community Safety and Well-Being. In this capacity, Norm will manage all day-to-day editorial and content-related operations of the Journal. As one of the original architects of the Journal, Norm had graciously carried out these same responsibilities on a volunteer basis since the Journal's launch in April 2016.

Norm comes to this role with extensive related knowledge and experience. For almost 40 years he has been an independent advisor, educator, author and researcher, concentrating his practice in the past 20 years in the field of policing and community safety.

“We are very pleased to have Norm as editor-in-chief for the long term. Under his editorial leadership, the Journal is already having strong impact”, said CSKA CEO Cal Corley. “Just watch where he will take it next.”

“We conceived of the Journal believing that the growing intersections among human services, public health, policing and criminal justice could support a new outlet for knowledge exchange and emerging social science”, said Taylor. “Now, with 6 issues already behind us, and over 40 strong articles spanning original research to social innovation commentaries, I am excited and honoured to be selected to help carry this unique publication to another level.”

The Community Safety Knowledge Alliance (CSKA) is a Canadian non-profit that supports governments and others in the development, design and implementation of new models and approaches to community safety and wellbeing. For more information, please visit www.cskacanada.ca.

CSKA's Journal of Community Safety & Well-Being is a quarterly online open-access, peer-reviewed publication that features a mix of scholarly literature, complimented by carefully selected reports, discussion papers and mixed media productions covering a variety of multi-disciplinary topics related to the broadest interpretations of Community Safety and Well-being practices. For more information, please visit www.journalcswb.ca.